Plan for implementing KISAN e-SETHU PROJECT in Gujarat State

Kisan e-Sethu is an agri consultancy project for crop disease in which Universities are networked including various Govt. Agri. officers with the farmers on the field through high end mobile technology.

Gujarat Agro Industries Corporation is planning to start Kisan e-Sethu Service platform to provide IT enabled on farm service delivery system for farmers in Gujarat. The system shall enable farmers to have on-farmland agriculture related help enabling them to increase the productivity and quality of produce from their farmlands. The system shall thereby drastically contribute to economic sustainability and alleviation among the farming community. GAIC shall deliver scientific help through Scientists on need basis.
